About Susana Perczek

I am a stylist and image consultant with a decade of successful experience working with executive women. My specialty is helping executive women leverage their professional style to drive their leadership forward and leave a lasting legacy.

Before diving into the world of styling, I had a career in advertising, specializing in brand building. Originally from Buenos Aires, Argentina, and raised in Lima, Peru, I immigrated to the USA in the 1990s. Throughout my journey, I've discovered firsthand the transformative power of style to enhance one's presence, foster connections & influence leadership.
